“Conference Chair” pp 240 Hans J. Wegner 1990.

Wegner designed the Conference Chair with the purpose of providing comfortable upright seating throughout an entire day — and the following evening, if that proves necessary.

To meet this challenge the Conference Chair is more related to some of Wegner’s easy chairs elevated into a more upright position. In this way it breaks the norms and boundaries for how comfortable an upright chair may be. Despite the purpose of conference use and because of the seat height this upright easy chair is perfectly suited for dining, and it may also be used as a desk chair.

“The way in which a user experiences a chair or any other product, the exact places of contact, is decisive”.
