“The Chair” pp 501 Hans J. Wegner 1949.

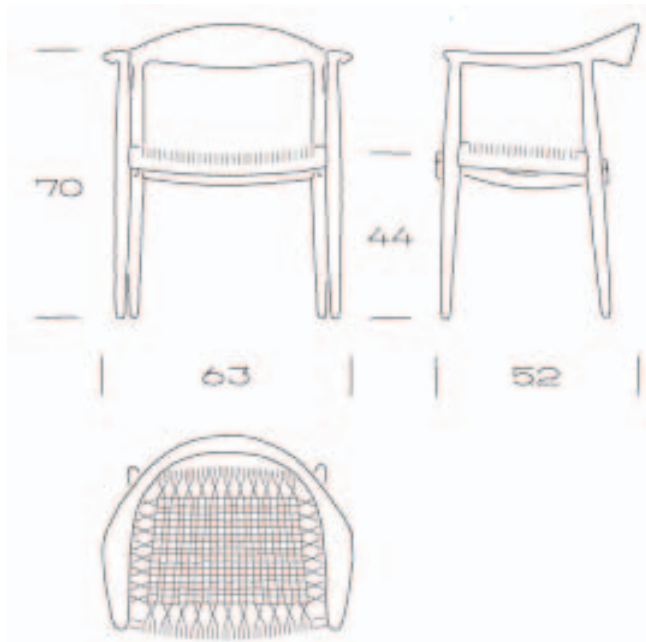

Referred to by Wegner as the Round Chair it was described by the America’s most Influential Interiors Magazine as “the most beautiful chair ever”.

The chair was used in the first televised Presidential debate between J. F. Kennedy and Richard Nixon.

“The Chair” is ithe most iconic of all Wegner designs and the one the designer considered to be his greatest acheivement.

“Many foreigners have asked me, how we created the ‘Danish Modern’ style. And I have to say that it was nothing like that - creating... I sippose it was more an advanced process of purifying and for me simplification, cutting the element down to the bare essentials: Four legs, a seat and a combined back and armrest “The Chair”
