

Sif is a full grain, uncoated pure aniline ox hide.

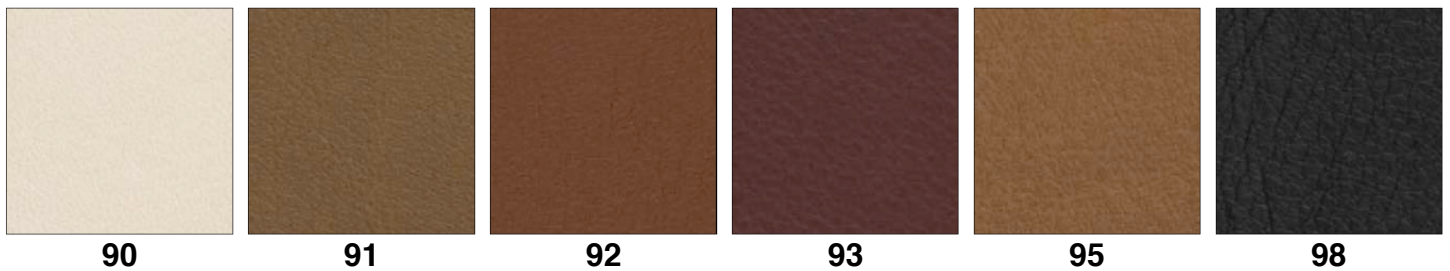

Only the very finest hides are selected for this type of leather. The tanning and dyeing processes are one and the same. No final pigmentation or surface coating are applied. As a consequence slight variations within hides and between hides may occur.

Sif has the most pleasant touch and high breathability. It also has a natural surface structure which is why scars or other marks are sometimes visible.

It is a feature of full grain leathers that they gain a patina with age and are most susceptible to staining. Darker colors will fade if exposed to direct sunlight for long periods of time.

Carl Hansen & Søn recommends Sif leather for those seeking the highest quality of comfort and who wish their furniture to gain a patina and distinctive appearance.

Sif is available in 6 colourways. (Digital representation only)

Cowhide

Cowhide is available for Hans J. Wegner's Three Legged Shell Chair Chair.

Natural Cowhides are available in two colours, combinations of either black & white or brown & white.

NB: As a natural product wear quality can vary between hides.

Each hide is unique and patterns will naturally vary.
